Frontier Economics launches new office in Berlin

Economic consultancy seeks closer links to the political community

COLOGNE, Frontier Economics, one of Europe's leading economic consultancies, launches its second German office in Berlin on 11th May 2017. "Berlin is becoming increasingly important as a hub for European business. Many of our clients and business partners have moved their business location to the German capital", says Dr Christoph Riechmann, Head of the German offices. In addition, having a Berlin office brings us geographically closer to policymakers and key authorities. Over the last few years, the presence of Frontier consultants working from Berlin has steadily increased, making the launch of another German office a logical next step.

Frontier specialises on advising private businesses and industry associations as well as ministries and public bodies by combining cutting-edge economics and modelling expertise, helping clients respond to complex commercial and politico-economic challenges. "Our clients regularly praise our ability to mix our sound economic expertise and methodical experience with our deep-rooted sector knowledge and long-term industry experience", Riechmann says.

In 2003, Frontier successfully launched its first German office in Cologne. In total, Frontier employs over 170 economists who work collaboratively on projects from Frontier's offices in Brussels, Dublin, London, Cologne, Madrid and Paris. "The new office in Berlin will allow us respond even quicker to political and legislative trends and developments", Riechmann says.
